

Welcome to James Construction!

You'll find that our affordability, personal care, and attention to detail will make your home building experience a pleasure. Being a hands-on, family-style builder, we either do the job ourselves or personally oversee each phase of construction. You'll find us on the jobsite with a level or some other tool in our hands making sure your new home meets the quality standards you expect, at a price you can afford. Please explore our website for examples of the homes we can build for you and your family. We have extensive details on some of our most popular models, listings of buildable lots we currently have for sale, and details on any existing homes we have already built so you can take possession of your new home right away! I would be very happy to personally answer any questions you have regarding James Construction or on the process of building a new home. Please visit our 'contact us' page to reach me. Thank you!

Eddie James

James Home Construction, LLC
Serving Lorain County, Ohio and Northern Ashland County